

IMPRS on Astrophysics PO Box 1312, 85741 Garching, Germany

Dear IMPRS supervisors,
dear IMPRS students,

According to our IMPRS rules we should have a thesis committee for each student which should have the following composition:

- The “official” supervisor responsible vis à vis the respective university
- The project supervisor (s) providing the detailed supervision
- Other scientists from the group / field in which the thesis takes place

The committee should be composed in agreement with the supervisor. We recommend a committee of at least three scientist of the field. In case the “official” supervisor is the same person than the project supervisor, we recommend to choose two additional members.

Furthermore, the student should choose a scientist independent of the committee (mentor), who will mentor him / her during the PhD time (page 6 of the IMPRS student handbook has more details to clarify the role of the mentor).

Please set up a thesis committee and provide us with the following information:
